Behind-The-Scenes Compromise Is Sought To Avert Monday Strike

TWO PARLEYS ARE ALSO IN SESSION (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—Government officials applied pressure today for a behind-the-scenes compromise to avert Monday's threatened national telephone strike.

Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson held secret conferences with C. F. Craig, A. T. & T. vice president, and Joseph A. Beirne, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

None of the three men are sitting in on labor department negotiating sessions, but chief hopes of a phone wage settlement hinge on their discussions.

The trio settled the 1946 telephone dispute without a strike.

Separate Parleys
Meantime, two separate bargaining parleys convened shortly before noon in the labor department among other telephone union and management representatives. They involve the AT&T and its long lines union and the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., and the National Federation of Telephone Workers affiliate representing the firm's employees.

Conciliator William Margolis said the peace-making efforts would be uninterrupted. He commented:

PA NEW OBSERVES

One resident of East New Castle opined this morning that it's a good thing their roof doesn't leak because the rain "was sure coming down" out there about 5 o'clock this morning.

The season of Lent came to a close at noon today. Tomorrow is Easter Sunday.

Some machinery and equipment has arrived at the site of the projected new city hall, North Jefferson and Grant streets, preparatory to the contractor starting work on excavating and building of the basement of the new building, Pa. News notes.

First real spring rainstorms arrived during the night. Heavy rain, accompanied by thunder and lightning, caused most of the streams to rise considerably, while streets were cleaned considerably by the down-pour.

Report came to Pa. News this morning that Mrs. Harold McCown of Shenango road started planting her garden on March 24. In it are onions, radishes and lettuce. She also has a letter from her mother, Mrs. L. L. Long, formerly of New Castle, now of Lodi, Tenn., stating that they planted part of their garden in February and that their onions and peas are through the ground.

Mrs. D. C. Clingsmith, 1024 Croton avenue, reports that she has a poinsettia plant which is blooming again after blooming at Christmas time. The plant has three blossoms on it now and two or three buds.

Assail Krug's Order Closing 518 Mines

By NORMAN AGATHON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
PITTSBURGH, April 5.—Interior Secretary J. A. Krug's order closing 518 of the union's bituminous coal mines today drew fire from state officials, mine operators and industrialists.

Charges and counter charges were hurled at Secretary Krug and United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis. Krug was accused of allowing himself to be "harassed to a point of fear in closing the pits". Mine operators expressed growing concern that a majority of the diggers will not return to work when the current mourning period ends Sunday.

Rush Certification
The operators, meanwhile, rushed certification of safety of their operations to the coal mine administration in Washington following a joint union-management agreement to the safety conditions of the pits. First to certify their mines as safe was the H. C. Frick Coke company of Pittsburgh, who hope to reopen (Continued on Page Two)

Near Cloudburst Drenches Chicago

Estimate Millions Of Dollars Damage By Severe Rain Storm In Chicago Area

CHICAGO, April 5.—(INS)—A near cloudburst drenched Chicago with almost four inches of rain today and fed flooded waters which inundated large portions of the southwest side and adjacent suburban area.

Unofficial estimates placed the damage thus far at millions of dollars.

Hundreds Flee Water
Hundreds of householders just outside the city limits were forced to flee to the upper floors or roofs of their homes to escape the rising waters, which varied in depth from four to six feet.

State and local police, aided by coast guardsmen, were plying the area in 20 boats, carrying stranded persons to safety.

Lt. Carl Reil of the Blue Island, Ill., state police office reported at 10 a. m. that 100 persons had been evacuated from the area thus far. He could give no estimate on how many were still awaiting evacuation.

Red Cross emergency units set up temporary headquarters in a store on the southwest side, and distributed dry clothing and food to the victims.

Washington Police Seek Former American Diplomat For Questioning

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—Investigation of the mysterious death of an attractive, 25-year-old Philippine embassy secretary switched to New York today as police sought a former American diplomat for questioning.

Arlington county (Va.) detectives turned to Manhattan in an attempt to solve the death of Wynona Harvey, whose fully-clothed body was found Thursday under a culvert on the Virginia shore of the Potomac river.

Capt. Hugh Jones, chief of the Arlington county detectives, said that he hoped to question Andrew S. Gilchrist Jr., former vice consul to Czechoslovakia, and now associated with the Phillips Export Co. in New York.

Friends of Miss Harvey said that Gilchrist, a twice-married, middle-aged businessman, had been introduced to her during his visits to Washington. Gilchrist lives in (Continued on Page Two)

Louise Overell Is Released On Bond Of $50,000

SANTA ANA, Calif., April 5.—(INS)—Prosecution of the Overell murder case was taken over by the state attorney general's office today "in the interests of justice" after 17-year-old Louise Overell was released on bond of $50,000.

Attorney General Fred N. Howser revealed in a statement that he intervened in the yacht blast murder case at the request of Police Chief R. R. Hodgkinson of Newport Beach.

Golium Held Without Bail
Bail was set for Louise after she and George (Bud) Golium charged innocent to indictments pleading them with the murder of her wealthy parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Overell, who were blown up in their power cruiser at Newport Harbor March 15.

Her release on bond was obligatory under California law as the right of a person accused of less than a capital offense. She is not liable to the death penalty because she was under 18 when the alleged crime was committed.

However, no bail was set for Golium, who will remain in the Orange County Jail awaiting trial set by Superior Judge Franklin G. West for May 26.

Two-Way Radio Service Started By State Police

The master station is at Butler.

Community Prepares For Easter Observance

Reverently and joyfully, the Christian churches of New Castle and Lawrence County will observe the holy day of Easter, Sunday, April 6. With song and sermon, and with floral decoration the Day of the Resurrection will be observed and for one Sunday every denomination, every sect of the Christian faith will be at one insofar as text is concerned.

On Friday, many churches joined together in services marking the three hours travail. In some, the altar and the ornaments of the altar were draped in mourning as a reminder of the darkest hours in the history of the world.

Joyous Morning
But the gloom of Friday will turn to joy tomorrow morning when the world's most joyous hour is observed. Despite the dark clouds of disagreement that hang over the world, Easter morning is a day of rejoicing and a renewal of faith.

In some churches a sunrise ceremony will be held at 6:30 a. m. The Resurrection will be the topic of (Continued on Page Two)

Clear Skies For Easter In Most Of Nation Seen

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—The U. S. weather man today forecast clear skies for the Easter parade in most states along the eastern seaboard and west to the Mississippi.

Tonight's showers and thunderstorms are expected to give way to clearing weather Sunday morning in all parts of the east except New England. The northeastern states will have a rainy Easter morning, but it may clear later in the day.

Sunny weather with mild temperatures was predicted for most of the Gulf states, the lower Mississippi valley and the southern plains states.

The outlook for the Great Lakes region and westward to the northern Rockies was mostly cloudy and cold, with temperatures as low as freezing in the Dakotas and Montana.

Sunny weather is scheduled for Florida and most of the Pacific and western plateau states. But there will be a few showers along the coast of Washington and Oregon Sunday morning and snow flurries in the northern Rockies.

Balkan Report To UN To Cause Bitter Debate

By PIERRE J. HUSS
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 2.—Stormy days of acrid debate loom ahead today for the United Nations on Greece as the Easter weekend provided a lull.

At Lake Success, there were no illusions on exhibit over the fortification of the Balkan investigation commission, expected to present its findings to the Security Council in a few weeks.

Predict Split Report
Authentic predictions are that the Balkan commission will have a split and non-agreed report to lay before the council, thus almost certainly touching off another round of bitter controversy between the Soviet faction and western groups over the Hellenic situation.

The Balkan commission has ended its inspection tours of the disputed frontiers and at present is in Geneva drafting the report. Competent sources at Lake Success and from Washington claim that Mark Etheridge, U. S. member of the commission, will have strong statements of his own to make and he informally advised the State department that the Greek charges of interference through guerrilla warfare by Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania are correct.

U. N. Surveillance Of Greco-Turkish Aid Asked By U. S.

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The senate foreign relations committee declared today in a formal report that this government "invites the surveillance of the United Nations" over the Greco-Turkish aid program.

The lengthy report on President Truman's 400 million dollar assistance bill, filed in the senate, told congress and the nation that:

1. U. S. military aid to Greece and Turkey is intended only to "help these governments help themselves and not to assume military responsibilities for them."

2. The independence of both countries is "threatened" if American aid is not given promptly.

Guided By Will of U. N.
3. The "ultimate objective" of external (Soviet) pressure on Turkey "might be to deprive Turkey of her independence."

4. In exercising of the UN veto against curtailment of American aid to Greece and Turkey, the United States will be "guided by the collective will" of the security council.

Senate leaders arranged to open debate on the assistance bill Tuesday or Wednesday. Support for the legislation was bolstered by the committee's bipartisan provision giving UN clear authority to halt the U. S. aid whenever the world organization demonstrates it is willing and able to take over.

Chairman Eaton (R) N. J., of the house foreign affairs committee said that his committee, too, would approve the UN proviso or "something like it" when it sits down next week to write the house bill.

Open hearings are continuing Tuesday and Wednesday before the house committee.

Kansas City River Reaches Flood Stage

KANSAS CITY, April 5.—(INS)—The Blue River reached flood stage at Kansas City today in the wake of a 2.25-inch rainfall in the last 24 hours.

A crest just slightly under the record 1935 level of 30.4 feet was predicted.

Meantime, the Missouri river stage at six o'clock this morning was 20.4 feet, a rise of 6 1/2 feet since yesterday.

Weather forecasts said there will be some flooding of lowlands downstream from Kansas City during the next day or two. However, there is believed to be no danger above Kansas City on either the Missouri or Kaw rivers, although the Kaw will rise rapidly today.

Miss Harvey's ex-fiance, Theodore Buck, a 23-year-old Charlottesville, Va., war veteran, was released by police last night after questioning. Police completely absolved him of any connection with the girl's death.

Keep Close Check On Rain-Swollen Streams In State

HARRISBURG, April 5.—(INS)—The state disaster committee today kept a close check on rain-swollen Pine creek at Wellsboro, ready to render aid should flood waters sweep the northern Pennsylvania community.

Steady rains for the past 10 hours had sent the stream over its banks in low lying sections and the cellars of some residences were filled, according to Administrative Assistant J. Hugh McNeil.

Flood forecasts said the community would not be inundated unless additional rains swept the area, he added.

"The condition prevailing there should be called high water rather than flood," McNeil asserted. "The conditions were not sufficiently serious to warrant alerting committee members and rescue crews but if additional rain falls we will have them stand by."

SIX U. S. MARINES REPORTED KILLED IN CHINA ATTACK

said that heavy casualties were inflicted upon the attackers and it was reported they were driven back 18 miles north of Tientsin.

(At the United States embassy in Nanking, a spokesman said the embassy was awaiting further details of the incident before taking action. The spokesman said the embassy was not yet certain that communists were responsible.)

Previously Attacked

The ammunition dump has been subjected to pilfering by unidentified Chinese continually.

It was attacked by 200 communists last October, and one U. S. Marine was slightly wounded, while a communist attacker was killed and another taken prisoner.

This morning's attack is the most serious that has occurred thus far. Marine sources said that papers found on dead Chinese, after attack, proved the assailants to be members of the communist organization.

The attack was said to have been intended to secure ammunition, but little, if any, was obtained.

As the attackers fled to the north, marine fighter planes joined in the pursuit and strafed the fleeing troops.

Marine headquarters withheld identity of the men killed pending notification of next of kin.

Upon the secular side of the day, the downtown streets will probably see the annual informal parade of smartly gowned young women, out for a stroll, and coincidentally to display their Easter finery. New Castle males as a general rule do not affect silk toppers at any time and it is likely none will be seen in the churches, although morning clothes will not be entirely missing.

In the homes, youngsters will be opening Easter eggs, sampling the jelly beans and in several ways proving that the juvenile stomach is a strange and wonderful piece of mechanism.

And then Easter Monday. The day when the minor sacrifices of Lent are over and the social world again takes on its springtime gaiety.

16 mines Monday. The Frick mines are a subsidiary of the U. S. Steel Corporation.

Steel manufacturers and fabricators said they believed the Krug order could only be used by UMW officials as a measure to shut down the mines for an indefinite period. One operator said:

"Union officials still smarting under the supreme court decision handed Lewis can use the safety clauses in the miners contract to keep mines closed for a long period of time."

Accuses Lewis

Walter R. Thurmond, secretary of the Southern Coal Producers' Association at Charleston, accused Lewis of using the Centralia, Ill., disaster in which 111 miners were killed "to advance his own ambitions and exorcise those whom he conceives to be his enemies."

Thurmond added:

"It is unfortunate that the secretary of the Interior permitted himself to be harassed to the point of fear where he closed down more than 500 producing mines in the nation, most of which have been operating with a low accident rate."

Thurmond said there is no more need to close the mines because of the Illinois disaster than there is suspending all railroad traffic because of a train wreck.

Rebuke Coal Administration

At Altoona mining officials rebuked the coal mine administration. President Charles O'Neill of the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' Association said:

"Closing the mines by this method was a big mistake. It will cause more confusion and a greater production loss than if it had been done in an orderly way."

"In many instances operators are unaware of violations of the safety code and in many cases the miners themselves are to blame."

Meanwhile, Pennsylvania Secretary of Mines Richard Matze challenged the government to name specific violations in the 157 pits in Pennsylvania.

He said the mines ordered closed by Krug were safe when inspected by his inspectors and had they not come up to state standards the mines would have been closed.

SEEK TO AVERT PHONE STRIKE SET FOR MONDAY

continuous sessions now would be a settlement."

Informed officials admitted that the outlook was grave. Only 48 hours remains in which to compromise scores of differences between the parties.

The government held its seizure in reserve.

High officials indicated that seizure of the telephone industry, if it happens at all, will not come until the final hours before the 6 a. m. Monday deadline for a walkout of 267,000 phone employees throughout the nation.

Telephone union leaders challenged the government's authority to seize the industry and did not indicate whether the workers would remain on the job for Uncle Sam.

Continuous Sessions

Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach, Assistant Secretary John W. Gibson, U. S. conciliation director Edgar L. Warren and a staff of conciliators planned virtually continuous sessions today, tonight, Sunday and Sunday night on the dispute.

The labor department officials kept in mind the fact that last year's threatened communications tieup was averted in an all-night bargaining meeting which produced a wage agreement a few minutes before the strike deadline.

They were encouraged slightly by an exchange of "offers and counter offers" on some issues in the parley between ATA-T and the National Federation of Telephone Workers affiliate representing its 20,000 long lines workers.

"Face Is Better"

Newsmen were told: "The pace is better."

However, G. S. Dring, assistant vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., reported after last night's peace talks with union representatives that "no progress was made toward settlement."

A "Break" in either the long lines case or in the bargaining with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., which also is being held in the labor department, might serve as a pattern to settle the demands of all 39 NPTW affiliates.

WOULD BOOST RATES

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—A bi-partisan demand developed in the Senate Appropriations Committee to increase airmail rates from five to six cents.

Committee leaders want the airmail service put on a paying basis. A deficit resulted from the reduction to five cents last October.

Sen. Reed (R) Kan., and Sen. McKellar (D) Tenn., led the move for the increase in the rate.

R. M. Martin, representing the postmaster general told the committee that a hike in the rate to six cents would wipe out the deficit.

FILE STRIKE NOTICE

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—The Labor Department announced receipts of a 30-day strike notice covering 50,000 Western Union employees throughout the country.

Under the notice, a walkout of the telegraph workers can begin anytime after midnight May 3, the department said.

Consumer Credit Volume Expands

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The bill adopted by the House providing a 20 to 30 percent tax cut came out of closed sessions of the Ways and Means Committee under the iron rule of Chairman Harold Knutson. Treasury tax experts insisted that such a cut could be highly inflationary and they presented detailed studies to prove their case.

"You people study too much," one of the Republican members declared after hearing this testimony. "The way to write a tax bill is not by studies but by votes."

Observers who follow economic trends are almost all agreed that a tax cut at this time would contribute more than anything else to the upward spiral of prices. And certainly in the lower-income brackets it will take away in higher prices any tax savings.

Consumer Credit Up
But if the tax cut is finally approved by the Senate, it will not by any means be the only inflationary force threatening to convert a boom into a bust. Since 1944, outstanding consumer credit, most of it for installment buying, has doubled. The total now equals the pre-war peak. Nevertheless there are powerful political pressures to expand the volume of consumer credit.

During the war, the Federal Reserve Board and the Treasury helped to hold consumer credit down. More important, there were no automobiles or washing machines to buy. The total volume of consumer credit dropped to about $5,000,000,000 in 1944. Today the total is $10,000,000,000.

Although there are still some restrictions on installment buying, the volume of consumer credit is expanding. Carried over from the war is the requirement that a minimum of one-fifth to one-third of the cost of an article must be paid down, and the payments for the balance cannot be extended over more than 13 months. It applies to automobiles, but not to durable goods costing more than $50 and less than $200.

Will Be Removed

FLORIDA AND CALIFORNIA
Travelers tell us wonderful tales of the beauties and comforts of California and Florida.

They tell us about the juicy grapefruit and luscious oranges. The beautiful flowers and spreading palms make the country a fairy land.

The wonders of transportation and recreation have brought to us many of the beautiful and useful things produced in those far away places.

We have pretty flowers and ripe fruit from these sunny climes. We should get the benefit of the fruits and vegetables which these states send to us. Our invigorating and varied climate helps us to make good use of them. They are brought to us in such good condition that we have many of the advantages of those distant lands.

We can look in the store windows and be cheered by the beauty of the flowers.

REPLY TO "AT HOME" INVITATION

Question: I have received an "at home" invitation. I shall be unable to attend. Is a reply necessary?

Answer: When unable to go to a tea, the invitation not requesting a reply, mail your visiting card so that it will arrive the day of the tea. A reply is necessary only when requested in which case the following should be used:

Mrs. Mary Smith regrets that she is unable to accept Mr. and Mrs. Roberts' kind invitation for Saturday the fifth of April.

Question: I am about to give a dinner at an inn and would like to know what amount I should tip the waiters. There will probably be two of them and about fifteen guests. Should the manager or I supply the floral centerpiece?

Answer: The rule for tipping is ten per cent of the total bill. But there are times when such percentage would be too small. In your case, it would no doubt amount to a fair sized tip. Each waiter should receive no less than one dollar. Consult the inn proprietor about your floral centerpiece. Usually such flowers are supplied without charge, by the management; but if this inn will not give such service, you might order a centerpiece yourself or have the manager do so and put the cost on your bill.

Question: I am to be Godmother for a baby. If I should buy the entire Christening outfit for it, must I also buy a gift?

Answer: If you buy the baby's Christening outfit, you will be doing more than your share and any additional gifts will be unnecessary. Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal answers to questions from readers including stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ADOLESCENT PROBLEM CHILDREN

Many parents who feel they have utterly lost control of their adolescent son or daughter don't have such nearly hopeless problems as they suppose. No wise parent will force him to do as he says the problems facing her may be.

A widow writes: "I have a 15-year-old son who worries me very much. I know it is my fault because I have not been firm enough with him and have shielded him when others have tried to correct him."

He is very headstrong and this last year with him has been a nightmare as he has taken affairs into his own hands almost entirely. If I make a suggestion to him which he doesn't care for, he says it's his life, let him worry about it. If I give a command he says, "Tough situation" and then does just as he chooses. I feel very much at sea as I realize I have no way of forcing him to do as I ask and he has no intention of doing anything he doesn't wish."

Thousands of mothers could write a letter like that. To them I would suggest:

- Means Of Control
1. You may still have some means of control through the way you handle the family budget. Otherwise you hardly can hope to apply much authority effectively.
 2. You still have rich resources for influencing that child if you can, through your self-management, prove that you are worthy of his esteem.
 3. Try to prove that you are really big in soul and personality, that (Continued on Page Eight)

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Tomorrow will be Easter... a time that all people have been waiting for... each year... for Easter seems more like the start of a new year than even the first of January... winter is over... beautiful clean and sweet spring fills the air... Mother nature awakens plant life... we look at life through rose colored glasses.

In addition to Easter... another week starts... opposite yes, but so very important that we remember... April 7th to 15th will be known as Army week... a time when all citizens should display the greatest flag on earth... the Red, White and Blue... Stars and stripes... yes and forever. Major General Luther D. Miller, Chief of Chaplains of the United States Army will say this prayer:

Almighty God our heavenly Father, Who art a shield and Buckler to all those that put their trust in Thee, bless us Thy servants and the Army in which we serve; lead us and guide us by Thy good Spirit, strengthen our defense by Thy might, that we may be to our land a sure defense against every enemy; support us in the day of battle, and in the time of peace keep us safe from all evil; endow us with courage and loyalty, and grant that in all things we may serve Thee without reproach. Let the light of Thy countenance, O God, shine upon our comrades departed, that they, increasing in knowledge and love of Thee, may go on from strength to strength, in the life of perfect service, in Thy heavenly kingdom. Grant to us who, at this Easter tide, are still in our pilgrimages and who walk as yet by faith, that having served Thee with constancy here on earth, we may at length fall asleep peacefully in Thee and awake in Thy presence. Amen.

Be on the alert at all times, but especially for the very young and the very old.

The World and the Mud Puddles

STRICTLY COMMUNIST

When this nation started to "lend-lease" various commodities calculated to defeat Nazi aggression, there was a supposition on the part of practically all the New Dealers that there would be some sort of a return made by the nations so favored—Great Britain and Russia in particular.

Among other things, this nation lend-leased ninety-five merchant ships valued at more than one hundred million dollars to Russia and while we have made a demand on Russia for payment of the ninety-five ships, Russia is silent on the subject. As a matter of fact, Russia doesn't intend to return the ships or pay for them. Of course, we would rather have the money than the ships. We are in about the same condition that we were after World War I as far as ships are concerned.

We advanced to Russia on this "lend-lease" proposition, several billion dollars worth of munitions, delivered to Russia at a great expense both in money, men and ships.

One vital thing that seems to be overlooked in connection with these Russian obligations is this:

Communism does not recognize the existence of any property rights either of the individual or of another nation. The only right to property under the Communist conception, lies in the Soviet state. This right not only applies to property in the Russian domain, but to all property everywhere.

It is not to be expected that Stalin and his advisers should take seriously demands from the United States for a lend-lease settlement for war purposes. The Soviet theory is that whatever they can get hold of belongs to the Communist government. Following the war it was frankly announced by Stalin that once the Russian flag had been planted on any soil it would never be hauled down.

This assumption that property rights exist only in the Soviet States lies behind the Russian expansion in Europe, bringing the Balkan and Baltic states within the Russian orbit. It animates the present activities of the Russians in Korea and Manchuria. It explains the stripping of Manchuria of its industrial equipment. Carried to its logical end it means eventual seizure of the Dardanelles and permanent occupation of the Russian zone in Germany under a Soviet puppet government.

Because of this Russian Communist conception of sole property rights in the state, it may be set down as a practical certainty that the United States never will obtain a settlement of Russia's lend-lease bill, except as one consideration. That consideration is Russia's urgent need of a huge loan, which can only come from this country. Such a loan, of course, under the Russian idea of property rights, would not be the paper on which the note is written. The Russians already have shown their contempt for capitalistic business standards by repudiating the Czarist regime's national debt.

Needless to say, the hope of "understanding Russia" so devoutly expressed by our radicals and left wingers, is futile, because Communism ethics toward property are wholly incomprehensible to the American capitalistic mind.

GOOD WILL

Good will, as lawyers oft have told, By contract can be bought and sold. Among man's assets, they insist, It is a product they should list.

Good will, by all the best advice, Commands a certain market price, But may the buyer go to court, Not getting what he thought he bought?

Suppose the seller hasn't told Just how he earned what he had sold, Will his good will continue on Or lessen daily till there's none?

Who buys good will must serve as well As he who had good will to sell, And keep his title to it clear, Or shortly it will disappear.

Coal Operators Seek Two-Year Pacts Truman Has Nomination In Bag War Probe Committee Co-operation

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Major demand that the coal operators will serve on John L. Lewis in the forthcoming mine wage negotiations is a request for a two-year contract. This is uppermost in the minds of the operators, many of whom are all ready to begin negotiations with the UMW at any time.

Some of the mine owners are prepared to grant the welfare fund which Lewis won from the government and they know they're going to have to adopt a shorter work week which will mean an actual pay boost for the miners.

However, if they make these concessions, the operators want assurance of a period of peace in the coal fields—a contract which will run to the spring of 1949.

Soft coal pacts before the war were always negotiated on a two-year basis. The operators now want to get back to pre-war contracts which offered a period of stability for the industry.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS have received a political "shot in the arm" from the rising spiral of President Truman's popularity. In fact, his nomination to succeed himself at the Democratic national convention next year is virtually a foregone conclusion.

However, the Democrats reportedly fear two GOP front runners for the presidential nomination—businesslike Thomas E. Dewey and liberal-minded Harold E. Stassen.

They believe that if the elections were held tomorrow they could defeat Senator Robert Taft or any other Republican in Congress although they acknowledge that Taft's political machine is smooth and well-oiled.

They see a nip-and-tuck race between Truman and Dewey and an unpredictable contest against Stassen although his chances for the nomination are very remote.

Their 1948 hopes, however, are pinned on the shifting foreign and domestic picture.

THE BRITISH LABOR GOVERNMENT is quietly, but persistently, moving to counteract the publicity—originally officially-inspired—that the British empire is disintegrating.

When the first rash of stories appeared, the government was quite unconcerned. Now, top officials feel that such a trend might hamper Britain's efforts to obtain more aid from the United States. Moreover, they do not want to be directly accused of presiding over the empire's collapse no matter how imminent it might be.

Consequently, you can expect to hear recurring statements that Britain's empire ties will continue.

SENATOR OWEN BREWSTER (R) of Maine, new chairman of the war investigating committee, is usually a hard-driving, rough-and-tumble floor fighter. However in lining up his probe program, he has trod lightly. He waited patiently until his $150,000 committee fund was approved. Then he co-operated closely with the Army and Democratic leaders, who reportedly were equally helpful.

A GOP source said no committee Democrat has suggested side-tracking the inquiry despite ever present "political" angles which could harm Democrats.

Brewster was also agreeable to an Army protest against opening up Army files completely to committee investigators. He denied in principle the Army's right to keep files secret, but made a deal whereby the committee could receive information without disclosing the names of informants.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

From a welter of confusion and contradiction surrounding the Big Four conference in Moscow, one salient undeniable fact has emerged.

The United States is not going to permit an impoverished Germany to pay exorbitant Russian bills while a host of other creditors stand in line with their hats in their hands.

Secretary of State Marshall's blunt rejection of Soviet Russia's billion dollar reparations claim even as a subject for discussion cast a gloomy shadow and caused a recession in hopes for the parity's success.

Injects Reality
But at the same time it injected the serum of absolute reality into conversations that on occasions have had the monotonous quality of a repetitious dream.

Although it was accepted at Potsdam as a basis for future discussion, the figure of ten billion dollars being paid to a single nation from the ramshackle, blitzed, often outmoded and frequently inefficient remains of the German industrial machine has been characterized by many experts as fantastic.

There have been occasions to wonder whether the modern Russian, with their system of state control, collectivization and barter, possess a thorough knowledge of international finance and economy. Or whether their own methods, doubtless successful at home, have blinded them to the way things must be done in balanced dealings among nations.

Unique Financing
There is no question but that the Russians displayed some decidedly unique financing in various occupation spheres.

In Vienna, for example, they took over large gold-backed schilling assets from the Kredit-Anstalt, formerly one of the largest banks in Europe, and replaced them with paper rubles or military scrip.

This in itself was not particularly unusual.

But according to United States military officials, the Soviets would return to various branch offices of the bank, present new rubles and demand Austrian Schillings at parity in exchange. At least one high-ranking American military man has pointed out that the Russians could see nothing irregular or illegal in this sort of deal.

Difficult To Envisage

On the face of it, observers find it difficult to envisage the Russians climbing down from their ten billion dollar estimate to anything approaching the amount regarded as "reasonable" by the western allies.

But it is equally difficult, in the minds of many experts, to reconcile extensive reparations in any case. When a country is destroyed to an extent that Germany is devastated, reparations become a vicious cycle. The people have to pay out what they make, and as this is never enough, some victor nation has to pour funds in to satisfy the claims of another.

Yet it is axiomatic the Germans must be punished for their aggression, and hammerblows or the pocketbook are no better liked in Berlin than in New York, London or Moscow. The problem is to make those hammerblows hurt the Germans and no one else—but a solution is still far out of sight.

Hints On Etiquette

Good office manners require that when there is extra work to be done by someone, you do your share, not saying, "That's not my work."

And then there was the Scotsman who went into the saddler's shop and asked for one spur on the theory that if he could get one side of the horse to go with one spur, the other side would go along regardless.—EX.

AUNT EPIE HOGG WILL DEFINITELY APPEAR AT CHURCH IN HER EASTER BONNET

Most Movie Stars Got Their Start On Stage

HOLLYWOOD. — (INS) — Don't you fall for that malarkey which is periodically ground out of film factory propaganda mills to the effect that many of our movie greats have been "discovered" strolling down the avenue or sipping ice cream sodas. Because that's pure hokum, Her-man!

Ninety-nine out of 100 movie stars got a start on the stage. The other one's press agent is a big fibber.

This myth-busting was done today by none other than Jimmy Stewart, who recently completed his post-war debut in an opus entitled "It's A Wonderful Life."

Brother Stewart averred like this: "I don't necessarily mean," said he, "that all the movie stars necessarily were stars on the stage, although many of them were. But that on some stage at some time they got a yen for acting — and just naturally gravitated to the screen."

Jimmy, using case points, brought up the cast of his recent Frank Capra picture at Liberty Films.

"Take Donna Reed," he said, "and who wouldn't take her? She acted in high school plays in Denison Iowa came to Los Angeles to finish her schooling, won a beauty contest and then — pictures."

"Lionel Barrymore, who has the top featured role in 'It's A Wonderful Life,' doesn't need any background recitation."

"But Thomas Mitchell was in vaudeville, a play-doctor, playwright, director and actor. Henry Travers was an actor in England. So was H. B. Warner. Beulah Bondi started out in stock, vaudeville, nightclubs and showboats."

Here is Fritz: "And here is the prize — Gloria Grahame was born and raised right here in Hollywood. No one even looked at her until she went on the stage in San Francisco, Chicago and New York. Then Hollywood finally discovered her."

"If I were to hand out any advice," continued Stewart, "I'd tell youngsters with their eye on an acting career, to get on the stage — whether it's in Skinny's backyard, the grammar school auditorium or a legitimate theater in some big city."

To keep the record straight, leave us consider a thought for J. Stewart. With no thought of becoming an actor, the gent went on a vacation with some friends, was high-pressed into playing a part in a summer stock show and wound up on Broadway as star of "Journey at Night."

The rest is Hollywood history.

Mrs. Jessie Brown, juvenile matron, and Miss Minnie Doloughen, lecturer of Liberty grange, have returned home from Lock Haven where they attended a grange lecturers' conference.

At the regular meeting of the grange Tuesday evening, the home economics committee presented the following program:

Gals From Whistle Stops Usually Get Whistles In Films

Small Town Aspirants Usually Turn Out To Be Brightest Stars In Film Land

HOLLYWOOD. — (INS) — There's nothing backward about the backwoods. Contrary to the general belief, it's the small town boy or girl who makes good in Hollywood.

The indications are that the boy who has the lead in the Slippery Rock high school play is the Alan Ladd of tomorrow. And the village cutup is next year's comedy star.

Champion small-town boy of pictures is perhaps Fred MacMurray, born in Kankakee, Ill., raised in Beaver Dam, Wis., Gilroy, Calif., and Waukegan, Wis.

Plays Suave Role

Despite his rural upbringing, MacMurray has played the role of a suave New Yorker in more than half of his forty-five pictures. In his latest, Paramount's "Suddenly It's Spring," MacMurray teams with Paulette Goddard, both of them portraying Manhattan lawyers.

If Filley, Neb., is on any map it is not due to its size but because of its favorite son. On the marquee of the Nebraska town's one theatre he is still billed as Arlington Sprangler Brough, but he is better known outside Filley as Robert Taylor.

Taylor's staminate on the MGM lot, Clarke Gable, hails from Cadiz, Ohio.

Not all the glamour girls come from New York or Hollywood, either. Chances are it is a gal from some whistle stop who gets the whistles. Like Lana Turner, from Fairchild, Wis.; Ann Sheridan, Denton, Tex.; Ella Raines, Snoqualmie, Wash.; and Joanne Crain, Bartstow, Calif.; to name a few.

At least ten rounds of golf a year are played by about 2,351,000 people in the United States.

WASHINGTON CALLING

moved. Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott of Michigan, chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, served notice at the end of the last session that, unless restrictions were removed, he would introduce legislation to repeal them.

Behind the drive to lift remaining restrictions is the powerful influence of automobile and appliance dealers throughout the country. They can see the end of the seller's market. Inflated prices have already cut sharply into the reserves, both of income and savings, of most American families.

When government restrictions are removed, it will be possible to liberalize installment terms. Thus a family that might not be able to manage a one-third down payment on a car, costing nearly twice what it cost before the war could manage a one-tenth payment. The payments could be spread out over 24 months instead of 15 months.

Most auto dealers still have waiting lists for new cars. But if auto production through 1947 continues at the present high rate, prospective purchasers will be pretty generally supplied. In February of this year, 266,237 passenger cars and 106,339 trucks came off the assembly lines. This compares with 57,784 and 34,914 for February of a year ago, when strikes had shut down a large part of the industry.

May Make 5,000,000 Cars

The National Automobile Dealers Association, at their convention in Atlantic City, estimated that 3,600,000 passenger cars and 1,100,000 truck and coaches would be produced this year. Barring strikes, the total by the year's end may be well over 5,000,000.

Part of the pressure to life installment restrictions comes from the bankers. In recent years a great many banks have established their own departments of installment credit. These departments, the bankers argue, cannot be profitable unless they handle a large volume of credit.

Of the total consumer credit outstanding, the banks have $3,700,000,000, or about a third. Of that amount, $1,700,000,000 is in auto installment credit.

The banks are also pressing for a rise in government interest rates, which is being resisted by the administration. Expensive propaganda for this purpose is going out.

It is argued that the man who hasn't a one-third down payment, as well as the man with a little more money, should be allowed to get a car. But if the credit bubble is blown up to the bursting point, then everyone, big and little, will suffer. (Copyright, 1947, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Eli Whitney introduced the method of mass production. He made muskets for the War Department and was the first to use special machine tools that made interchangeable parts.

It is now reported that about March 31 there will be an explosion in the North Sea which will be "the nearest rival to the atomic bomb."

THE PARENT PROBLEM
in spite of the greatest provocation, you won't indulge in childish words or ways. Don't let yourself scold and whine, nor ever charge the child with ingratitude or lack of love for you.
Commands Obeyed
4. Make no commands unless you are pretty certain they will be obeyed. Be also quite sure your requests will be acceded to before you make them. Please don't be so foolish as to be angry if your child does not accept your suggestions or accede to your requests. Never stoop to arguments and word battles. Of all things, don't go around mad at the child and everybody else.
I'm not saying you might not be morally justified in doing some or all of the foregoing things I have warned you against doing. I am just considering what will bring the best results in the long run.
5. Study your child to find out where his or her greatest strengths and virtues lie. Lose no opportunity to promote these strengths and appreciate these virtues. In as many ways as you can, treat your child as of age, even as a bit older.
6. If you have any kind of religious faith, pray—pray for wisdom, patience, self-control and greater loveliness. One time I wrote a prayer for myself as parent. Any one may have a copy of that prayer in a self-addressed, stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

END OF HELGOLAND
There is one post-war policy of Germany's conquerors to which it is difficult to find objection. Methodically they are destroying great structures built for war and useful for no other purpose. These submarine pens at Hamburg are gone, and much of the concrete wall intended to prevent invasion of France and Belgium. Firing sites of the flying bombs have been destroyed. Semi-underground factories in Bavaria have been used as targets for experiments with explosives, and will ultimately be wiped out altogether. All these and many other monstrous structures were built by the Nazis, by tremendous expenditure of money and labor. It is a practical preventive of further trouble to get rid of them. The next war in Europe, if any, is not likely to allow time to replace them.

The island of Helgoland, or Heligoland, has a different history. It has known several ownerships. It was ceded to Germany by Britain in 1890. It was heavily fortified, but its fortifications were destroyed under terms of the Treaty of Versailles. Yet the island remained where it is, conveniently close to Hamburg and Bremen. And the Nazis, of course, made the most of it when Germany went to war again.

It is now reported that about March 31 there will be an explosion in the North Sea which will be "the nearest rival to the atomic bomb."

Fifteen miles of fortress tunnels in Helgoland will be crammed with surplus depth charges and blown up. When the smoke blows away there will be not much left of Helgoland.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

County Contest To End Sunday

Expect Attendance Records To Fall At Services On Easter Sunday

Sixty-one of the Sunday schools participating in the pre-Easter increase campaign, have gained points, and it is thought that when this attendance increase effort being sponsored by the County Sunday School association tomorrow, Easter, that all participating will be in the point column.

Taken as a whole, the weather conditions on the Sundays of this year's campaign were not as favorable as during last year's campaign. Easter was later last year and it so happened that every one of the eight Sundays was bright and sunny. However, with the weather less favorable it has required increased effort to secure good attendances, which is a good thing.

Thirteen Over 1,000
There are now thirteen Sunday schools that are in the 1,000 class, which means the additional members present over last year's average attendance equals or exceeds the total average attendance for one Sunday in 1946.

The leaders in the five New Castle groups are as follows: First, Highland U. P.; Second, First Pentecostal; Third, Croton Methodist; Fourth, First United Brethren; Fifth, Reformed Presbyterian; New Wilmington district, New Wilmington U. P.; Pulaski district, Pulaski Methodist.

Mt. Jackson district, Edenburg Methodist; Ellwood City district, First Methodist; Slippery Rock district, Greenwood Methodist; Plaingrove district, Plaingrove Presbyterian; Wampum district, Wampum Methodist.

The four goals are an increase in evangelism, an increase in Sunday school attendance, an increase in church attendance and an increase in Bible study. At this season the goal of evangelism is being stressed by practically all of the Sunday schools. Sunday school attendance is being stressed mainly in New Castle, a record is being kept of those who remained for the morning worship service. Daily Bible reading has been encouraged to meet the Bible study goal.

Easter Sunday will climax the eight weeks increase effort and it is anticipated that some of the participating Sunday schools will have record-breaking attendances.

Ministers To Meet Monday Morning

Monday morning at First Presbyterian church, North Jefferson at Falls street, members of the New Castle Ministerial Association will assemble for their regular meeting, with Dr. Burr R. McKnight in charge of the devotional period.

The special order of the day will be a paper prepared by Dr. W. J. Holmes, entitled "Easter To Pentecost" which will be read by one of the members due to the illness of Dr. Holmes, who is confined to the Jameson hospital. Special items of business will be transacted during the day, which will be of importance to every member.

EASTER PLAY AT EPWORTH CHURCH

Youth Fellowship of Epworth Methodist church will present an Easter play entitled "In Simon's House" written by the church pastor, Rev. George R. D. Braun, on Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock. Noted Violinist To Play At City Youth For Christ Program

Al Zahlout And Wife Of Marquette, Kansas, Will Present Easter Concert This Evening

Music lovers will have a rare privilege afforded them this evening at 7:45 o'clock, in the First Methodist church, North Jefferson and North streets, when Al Zahlout, of Marquette, Kan., nationally known Gospel violinist will be heard in a concert of Sacred music. He will be accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Verna Zahlout.

Mr. Zahlout's playing is outstanding due to the fact, that he is able to play on all four strings of the violin at one time. He was formerly connected with Rev. Percy Crawford, of Philadelphia, previous to his concert work throughout the United States. He will weave in his personal testimony the musical program.

Assisting again on the musical program will be the widely known Youth for Christ Ensemble, directed by Miss Mary Aiken. The recently organized choir will also be heard during the hour.

Next Saturday evening, Rev. James Harper of Erie, will be present to speak and play his cornet. Accompanying him will be a trumpet trio.

Four Twin Sets Confuse Teacher

BOSTON. (INS)—Boston University faculty and students admit being confused by four sets of look-alike, dress-alike twins.

Bernard and Harold Polit, Dorchester, are identical twins and students in the University college, where they are majoring in government. They attend the same classes and almost always are in each other's company. They served in the coast guard together for three years, seeing service in the Atlantic and in the Philippine Islands.

The Rood twins of Randolph, Greenfield and Patricia, are seniors, majoring in history and government. They point out:

Always Dress Alike
"We don't think that we look too much alike. But nearly everyone else thinks that we do—at least when they first see us. We always dress alike and like the same things. As for deciding what to wear, we generally take turns."

Alan and Philip Turner, Attleboro, are enrolled in separate classes. Both are veterans. Alan returned as a sophomore majoring in biology, while Philip is a junior majoring in history.

The Baker twins, Alma and Ann, of Framingham, are enrolled in the freshman class.

The area of Egypt is about 350,000 square miles if the desert regions are included, and only 12,226 square miles if just the cultivated and settled areas of the Nile Valley and Delta are included.

Canal Zone Payrolls Are Being Pruned

BALBOA, C. Z., April 5.—(INS)—United States Congressman Fred Bradley, who recently criticized government expenditures in the Panama Canal Zone, declared today that employee payrolls had undergone considerable pruning.

Bradley studied payroll charts given him by Joseph C. McHaffey, governor of the territory, and said vigorous efforts had been made to slash the number of employees hired by the canal and railroad.

He explained the increase in commissary personnel by the fact that the Panama military garrison has been reinforced lately. Bradley charged, however, that the figures he publicized two days ago still were accurate. At that time he pointed out a 75 per cent increase in government employees since 1929.

The bandit took everything they had and drove off in their gig, but he never found the bracelet. When he was out of sight, the father observed, "It's too bad we didn't bring Mama. We could have saved the horse and buggy."—Kabelgram.

A man hitched up the family nag and took his daughter for a drive. At a lonely stretch in the road, a masked bandit held them up. The man barely had time to whisper to his daughter, "Hide your diamond bracelet in your mouth."

Lawyer Under Fire

NAMED in the testimony of Fred Beals, a former Communist, who testified before the House Un-American Activities Committee in Washington, Leon Josephson (above), New York lawyer, faces further investigation by the committee. Beals told of getting forged passports when he went to Russia to escape U. S. charges facing him some years ago. (International)

Former Football Star Now Tosses Crooks For Loss

DALLAS, Tex. — (INS)—Little Davey O'Brien, an All-American football player at Texas Christian university in 1938 and later a pro with the Philadelphia Eagles, is still throwing things around—only now it's people instead of footballs.

Davey, all 159 pounds of him, was quite a passer in his gridiron days, but he gave it up after a couple of years with the Eagles to pursue a law degree.

Then he got a job working for a man named J. Edgar Hoover and his FBI, stationed in Dallas. And, as FBI agents will, he retired into virtual anonymity, although he still was around whenever a sporting event was run off.

FBI School Graduate
Davey's most recent accomplishment was graduation from an FBI school at Quantico, Va., where he learned the finer points of disarming suspicious characters.

He returned to Dallas and began instructing rookie policemen in the methods.

Most of the rookies weighed about 200 pounds, which was no problem for Davey who had done his share of handling the big boys on football fields.

Marshall Halts Tour Of 'Representative' U.S. Art

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—The cultural world tour of "representative American art" has been halted by direct intervention of Secretary of State Marshall.

A budget bureau official revealed today that Marshall ordered abandonment of the State department's art project because of the spirited controversy over the paintings exhibited.

Congressional critics of the pictures have denounced some of them as "Communist propaganda" allegedly portraying the United States as a degenerate country.

Surrealist Paintings Hit
Others have been caustically assailed the surrealist aspects of a number of the paintings, executed by members of what President Truman has termed the "ham and eggs" school of art.

One-half of the State department collection, costing more than $152,000 in all, now is stored in Prague, Czechoslovakia; the other is in a warehouse at Port Au Prince, Haiti, where it has notified Rep. Tober (R) N. Y., chairman of the House appropriations committee and one of the vehement critics of the art project, that the State department's role as patron of the paint brushes is at an end.

Fell Far Short
The purpose of the traveling exhibition was to acquaint the peoples of the world with U. S. culture as exemplified on canvas.

Opponents of the project insisted the collection fell far short of the objective. However, a State department cultural affairs official declared that the paintings were "enthusiastically received" in the four cities in which they were shown.

The only vice president of the United States to resign office was John C. Calhoun, in 1832, and soon after Mr. Calhoun took his seat in the senate, to which he had been elected by the legislature of South Carolina.

Movie Stars Tell Of Enthusiasm Of British Crowds

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—Barbara Stanwyck and her husband, Robert Taylor, said today that the traditionally staid British could give American bobby-soxers a lesson in fringed enthusiasm.

The movie stars arrived Friday on the SS America, from a London premiere of Barbara's picture, "The Other Love".

They gave a vivid description of how they were mauled by their British admirers.

One woman got a wrestler's lock on one of Barbara's legs and would not let go. A man grabbed her by the hair and held on grimly. It took mounted bobbies to break up a melee of 5,000 fans.

Said the Taylors:
"It was far worse than anything we ever experienced in this country."

CHARGE AUTOS ARE SPRAYED WITH RED PAINT IN STRIKE

PITTSBURGH, April 5.—(INS)—Pittsburgh police today charged William Norris, secretary of Local 1060 of the AFL-Machinists Union, with malicious mischief in the spraying of two automobiles with red paint at a strike-bound garage.

J. E. Evans, garage owner, filed the complaint, asserting the cars were sprayed with the paint as they left the garage. He said he found a spray gun in Norris' automobile. Norris denied he had sprayed the cars and said the spray gun was "planted" in his car. He said he had gone to the garage to pay striking employees who had been picking the place. He was released in $500 bond.

Local Eggs Produce Chickens In Africa

Local Missionary Couple Try Interesting Experiment In Raising Chickens In Africa

Mrs. Enos Hess, of this city and missionary to Belgian Congo, Africa, in an interesting letter to Woodson W. Collins of The News staff tells of an experiment that she carried out since her recent arrival back in Africa to take up her mission duties along with her husband, Rev. Enos Hess.

Mrs. Hess decided to take a dozen local eggs along with her to Africa to see if some American chickens could be raised on the mission compound where she is stationed. To her amazement five of the 12 eggs hatched and Mrs. Hess is raising Barred Rock chickens in Africa from Pennsylvania eggs.

The natives in Africa were glad for the arrival of the new stock since their chickens are small, similar to the bantam hens and roosters here in the states. As soon as the chickens begin to lay, more chicks will be hatched and sold to the natives to replenish their poultry stock.

Since Rev. and Mrs. Hess arrived on the field the former has taken over the chairmanship of the Congo work of the Christian and Missionary alliance. At present the missionaries are busy translating an American religious book into the native tongue.

Mrs. Hess is the daughter of Mrs. Hannah McIlrath, R. D. 1, and are members of the Alliance tabernacle, 210 Pearson street.

CAR HIT, DAMAGED
John Crespy, Youngstown road, R. D. 2, reported to city police last night that his car had been struck by a 1939 Buick on West State street. The operator of the other car did not stop his machine, according to the report. Crespy's auto was damaged.

Waxed paper is merely a thin sheet of paper which has been treated with purified paraffin, a wax similar to that used in preserving jelly. To make it, rolls of paper are fed over rollers into tanks of hot liquid, paraffin. Then the paper goes through a squeezing process similar to that of a washing machine wringer, and passes into a cold water bath which sets the wax. It is generally believed that the oldest varnish now existing is that on the wooden mummy cases of Egypt. In some instances, this is at least 2500 years old.

ACCIDENTS DO NOT HAPPEN, USUALLY THEY ARE CAUSED

The grisly accident toll in the United States continues to mount. Human lives are lost, bodies are broken and the property damage is appalling. And all because most of the accidents didn't happen—they were caused.

There are times when a loose nut in the equipment causes trouble, but too many times it is the loose nut back of the wheel that is responsible. This year, more than ever, the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association is stressing safety among the gentlemen of the highway who handle your merchandise.

A P. M. T. A. truck driver knows his business, and realizes his responsibilities. Among the safest drivers in the nation are the men who man the trucks bearing the sign of the P. M. T. A.

But safety is something for you too, to practice.

Easter Plant Sent To Collyer House

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—In the drab, brownstone house occupied for 38 years by the now-famous Collyer brothers, there was one bright spot today—a gay and expensive looking Easter gift. The gift was a potted Easter plant, which decorated the vestibule of the dilapidated, rubble-filled home which police have been searching for two weeks to find some trace of Langley Collyer.

Consisting of three Easter lilies wrapped in green paper and tied with a bright yellow ribbon, the plant was delivered to the boarded up house last night by a messenger from a florist shop.

A patent was granted in 1836 to Alonzo D. Phillips of Springfield, Mass., for the phosphorus match.

Satire Is Aimed At Glamor Girls

Harvard Lampoon Cites Numerous Hollywood Leaders For Year's Targets

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 5.—(INS)—Beautiful Alexis Smith has an unusual distinction today. She has two un-Oscars.

For the second time she has been chosen by the Harvard Lampoon, the student funny paper, for the "worst work" in the movies in the past year.

Chosen with her this time was Orson Welles.

The issue had the same format at a national weekly news magazine. But it came out mysteriously four days before it was to have appeared.

Welles was singled out as the actor who turned in the worst single performance in 1946, his part in "The Stranger". Alexis rated her citation for a role in "Night and Day".

A year ago, when Alexis was picked for her "most consistently bovine performances," she countered that the Lampoon was "devoted exclusively to undergraduate overstatement."

Glamour Girls Feel Sting

Miss Smith was not alone among the glamour girls to feel the sting of Lampoon's satire. Paye Emerson, now the wife of Elliott Roosevelt, was hailed for a "most welcome retirement" from the screen. Joan Crawford was chosen as the "actress with most toes in the grave".

Linda Darnell, previously a favorite in Harvard Square, was chosen for the "worst supporting performance" and Chiny Simms was voted "most miscast." Among the new comers, Catherine McLeod was rated "least talented new find".

Highly popular Ingrid Bergman came in for a rap. Her nose-rubbing scene with Cary Grant in "Notorious" was deemed the "least stimulating scene".

Merle Oberon and Turhan Bey, playing in "Night in Paradise" were voted the "worst movie couple".

The list of movie worsts of 1946 follows: "Night and Day," "I've Always Loved You," "Leave Her to Heaven," "Margie," "Adventure," "Make Mine Music," "The Searching Wind," "No Leave No Love," "Road to Utopia," "Of Human Bondage," "Scarlet Street" and the "Harvey Girls".

Miss Hogen received a number of attractive birthday gifts.

Chief Of Police Wounded As Thug Is Recaptured

PITTSBURGH, April 5.—(INS)—Police Chief Samuel Bickerstaff of Penn township today was recovering from a minor bullet wound suffered by him and two other officers recaptured a burglary suspect who had escaped from them Thursday night while handcuffed.

Bickerstaff suffered a superficial abdominal wound when Constable C. Clyde Gaston of Penn township fired three shots at Frank Ulrich tried to flee down a road where the officers had trapped him last night. One of Gaston's bullets ricocheted off a rock, striking the police chief as he approached Ulrich from the opposite direction.

Ulrich had been arrested for the theft of $1000 worth of tools and had escaped from a police car while officers were raiding a home where Ulrich told them the tools could be found. When recaptured last night, he said he had filed off the handcuffs on a rock.

Bickerstaff's wound was not serious and he was released from a hospital after treatment.

ADDED SKYSCRAPERS

New Yorkers, who have succeeded in having their city chosen as the home of the United Nations, will now have to put their heads together to try and make their success an asset and not a liability to Manhattan. UN has decided to locate in probably the most congested center of the United States, if not in the world.

City planners in New York have for some years been at a loss to know how to handle the traffic and transit problems that have arisen as a result of the density of skyscrapers in lower Manhattan. A huge population moves with great discomfort in and out of these hives every workday. Nearly everyone concerned with New York's future living has warned against the erection of more skyscrapers.

Previews of what UN's home will look like show more tall structures already there. Vertical construction is the only type possible in an area limited to 17 acres. If the skyscrapers to be erected will house only the offices, some thousands more people will be added to those who already fight for places on the subways and buses to get to and from their work.

Philadelphia would have had a problem in congestion handed it if UN had located here. But it would not have been comparable to the one New York has been given.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Left-handedness occurs in approximately 9 per cent of human beings.

Eleven Newsmen Will Begin Russian Tour On April 8

BERLIN, April 5.—(INS)—Military government authorities announced in Berlin today that Russian officials have notified them officially that the 11 U. S. newsmen originally approved for a week-long trip through the Soviet zone of Germany may begin on April 8.

The newsmen are to complete their tour on April 14.

A U. S. Army public relations officer added:

"Unfortunately no word was received about the reinstatement of Hal Foust or his substitution by Jack Thompson for the Chicago Tribune, or about inclusion of Peenemuende, Oranienburg and Rostock in the trip."

When announcing approval of the tour, the Soviets withheld permission for Foust to accompany the other newsmen because of his paper's views on Russia.

The itinerary excluded the three above-mentioned points. This led the American correspondents to point out the exclusion might raise public misgivings as to activities in those areas, particularly since reports have said the Soviets were active at the old Nazi rocket-experiment station of Peenemuende.

Bandit Escapes With $620 Cash, $3,000 In Hosiery

LANSDALE, Pa., April 5.—(INS)—State police searched today for a daring bandit who escaped with $3620 in loot after invading the home of a hosiery manufacturer at nearby Mainland.

The robber, wearing sun glasses, rang the bell of the home of Edward J. Vogel, 40, and his wife. Vogel operates a hosiery mill in Doylestown.

"Hello, Ed, said the stranger, waving a revolver. 'This is a hold-up. Get back in the house and let's get your money.'"

First the bandit took $500 from Vogel's wallet and then herded the couple upstairs, where he got $120 more from a bureau drawer.

The thug next forced the Vogels into the basement and tied them up with clothesline.

Finally, the intruder carted $3,000 worth of nylon stockings out to his automobile and drove off. Vogel undid his bonds and telephoned police to be on the lookout for a man five feet ten inches tall and 165 pounds.

Mining Work

FILLMORE, Utah—Block pumice—the stone that floats—is being mined again in Utah by the son of the man that discovered the deposit west of Fillmore 57 years ago. Byron A. Ray, son of Clinton D. Ray, who opened up the deposit in 1889, has installed a spur track, built a three and one-half mile road and has begun operations with a power shovel.

Outcroppings of the soft, porous stone—which has a frothy appearance—cover a 40-acre area and Ray estimates from two test pits dug that a minimum of 250,000 cubic yards of high grade pumice underlies the surface.

The comparative lightness of the silvery abrasive are the result of its structure of tiny, even-walled cells.

Geologists believe block pumice is the result of a certain type of lava with inclosed gases having come into contact with water.

The island of Sicily has a well-known deposit of pumice at Lipari where the stone was mined underground in prewar days.

Widely known as an abrasive, pumice is gaining usage as a constituent of light weight cement and in soundproofing and weatherproofing compounds.

Lions Club And K. Pulaskis Clash For Tourney Championship

City-County Cage Cup Awaits Victor Tonight At Washington Hi Floor

Capacity Crowd Predicted For Battle Of Titans In Tournament Finale; Gus "Big Five" Will Meet Ecclesiastics In Consolation Game At 7:30 P. M.

Loyal followers of the K. Pulaski cagers and the Lions Club flippers will be in the Washington high school stands tonight to see these two city basketball titans clash for the "Y" sponsored city-county championship.

The K. P.'s, under the coach-manager leadership of Al Gonet, will be trying to defend the title they won at the Y. M. C. A. court last year when they tripped the Polish Falcons, 54-47. The Lions, in their initial sponsorship of a cage machine in the city, will try to unseat the Polish juggernaut in what promises to be a thunderous collision.

Davis Men Confident
The Lions, coached by Dick Davis, figure they have the stuff to top the Pulaskis, and will be banking on their great one-two punch, Bob and "Frank" Pitzer, siege guns of the attack last season.

Other aces for the Jungle Cats include "Huck" McGary, long-shanked center, and feeding specialist, Jay Thomas, veteran of many battles, and Charles "Lefty" Tanner, ex-Shenango high school flash, who handles the guard spots. Strong reserves are "Chuck" Rea, high school regular this season, Don Mayberry,

Young Dentist And Veteran Will Battle For $10,000 Golf Plum Today

By JOHN R. HENRY

(International News Service Staff Writer)
NATIONAL GOLF CLUB, Augusta, Ga., April 5.—A competitive group of old timers, as far as golfing goes, may prove today whether young Carey Middlecoff made a mistake when he put aside a career in dentistry to become a play-for-pay man on the links.

The 26-year-old Memphis, Tenn., performer, jointly holds the lead in the $10,000 masters golf tournament at the halfway point.

Setting the pace with him was the veteran Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., who won the coveted title at Augusta in 1940 and who frankly thinks he may do it again.

Nelson Close Behind
Eighteen-hole play of the second day of the 72-hole medal play event with deadlocking totals of 140 each for the first 36 greens. But breathing warmly down their necks was a trio of battle-tested shotmakers who have been around professional golf long enough to tell the young Memphis star about the heartbreaks in the game.

Bracketed a stroke behind the leaders were Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., who came out of retirement to bid for his third masters crown; Tony Penna, the smiling little Italian from Cincinnati who is a perennial barrier between the top money seekers and championships; and Jim Ferrier, Chicago sporting goods salesman.

Those in third place of the standings included:

Horton Smith of Detroit who, like Nelson, has won the masters twice; Ed Oliver, Wilmington, Del.; Lawson Little, Cleveland; Claude Harmon, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; and Herman Barron, White Plains, N. Y.

Tanner, Barber Grinnen, Leave Monday For Camp

Three From Lawrence County Signed By Boston Braves Will Get 1947 Tryouts

WILL TRAIN WITH OWENSBORO, KY.

Three young Lawrence county baseball players will get the "thrill of a lifetime" Monday by flying to training camp on a TWA plane from Pittsburgh to Indianapolis and hence to Owensboro, Ky., where they will spring train with the Kitty league team, a Boston Braves farm team.

All three of the young men are well-known and liked by the fans here in Lawrence county who will be pulling for them to make good in their first year of organized baseball on the Boston farm team.

Three Young Stars

The young men are Charles "Lefty" Tanner, 185 pounds, 6 feet, 16 years old and former Shenango high school basketball star and a member of the American Legion team here. Tanner had a short stay with the Owensboro team last year and was promising enough to warrant his being given a chance to play regular this year. He is an outfielder, being used at center and left last year. He bats left handed and throws right handed.

Jack Barber, West Washington street, 22 years old, 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 195 pounds and formerly pitched with the Union Civics in the North County league.

Jim Grinnen, of Wampum, 19 years old, 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 200 pounds, former Wampum high school star and has been in the navy. Grinnen like Tanner is an outfielder. He bats and throws right-handed.

Signed by Reider
The young men were signed to Boston contracts by the veteran Jackie Reider, former local star, who now resides at Midland, Pa. Reider will accompany the young men to training camp.

The trio will leave New Castle at 9:51 on the P. & L. E. Monday morning and leave Pittsburgh by plane at 1 o'clock.

Tanner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tanner, of Stanton avenue, this city. Barber is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Barber, of West Washington street. Jim Grinnen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grinnen, of Wampum.

The young men having chosen a baseball career will be followed closely by their friends who wish them the best of luck in their new venture.

It is quite a compliment when a scout takes three out of one county for a big league tryout at the same time. The boys are busy saying farewell today and will be off for the "big show" Monday.

Universal Pottery In Softball Loop

Lawrence Gibson, business manager of the Universal Pottery softball team, announced today that the Potters are joining the city softball 1947 league. Kenny Evans will manage the team, Gibson stated.

The Universals are planning to field a championship team this year.

North County Loop Will Meet Monday

Member teams in the North County baseball league will have a meeting Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Carm's Place, West Washington street, it was announced by President Carmen DeLeon today. All managers are to attend the session, and discuss the coming season.

Schedule Committee To Meet Tuesday

The schedule committee of the city baseball league will have a meeting at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at Carm's place, it was announced today. The men will draw up the city league 1947 card.

Tiger Manager Steve O'Neill has announced the outright sale of Anse Moore and Hank Perry to Buffalo of the International league.

SPORTS EDITOR, INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

NEW YORK, April 5.—This is no rap at anybody, but rather a recounting of the misfortune which "snuck" up on owner Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants and Wacker Cooper, the highest-priced catcher in baseball.

If you want to interpret it as a rip you can agree with all on-lookers that Stoneham was a sucker ever to pay Owner Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals $175,000 for the catcher, and then you can add that anybody who will throw money around in such silly fashion deserves anything he gets.

Sustained Pain
What Stoneham got with Cooper was a sustained pain in the neck—or rather in Cooper's finger, which is the same thing.

The Giant owner bought the long-legged, lantern-jawed catcher while the latter still was in the Navy, causing considerable doubt as to when he could report and still more doubt as to whether he would be in shape to play. He played a little last season, but may not be back of the bat again for months. He may undergo an operation for removal of a finger.

Costly Break
Cooper not only cost the Giants $175,000 and Stoneham called a press conference to show the cancelled check after the deal was made—but according to reliable reports the catcher's salary was doubled to about $20,000 a season on a two-year contract.

So he reported last season, caught reasonably well after getting in shape until that finger was broken one day forcing him on the shelf. Cooper got into fewer than 100 games last season and what with one thing and another did not set the National league afire. Neither did the rest of the Giants, as they stumbled along into the cellar.

However, everybody spoke at the end of the season of that bright new day coming in 1947, when Cooper would be back with the club and leading the Giants ever onward, perhaps all the way up to seventh place.

Now it developed that if he doesn't submit to an operation he won't be able to do much catching because of that finger injury, and if he does so under the knife he will, of course, be out of the lineup for weeks or months.

Thus goes $175,000 plus a two-year salary aggregating at least $40,000 and perhaps as much as $50,000.

That sounds like a terrible investment for a ball club. As a matter of fact it would have been a bad investment even if Cooper had escaped injury and played the greatest baseball to possess all the attributes credited to Kling, Bresnahan, Gowdy, Schaik and all the rest who came along before him.

He must be able to out-throw, out-catch, out-run, and out-think any man that ever squatted behind the plate. Cooper never was that good, or anywhere near it.

In fact, he and brother Morton, the pitcher, combined wouldn't be worth much more than the money laid out for the catcher alone, and about the only comment you can make on Stoneham in connection with the transaction is that he must own a mint where they grind out money like sausage.

One Of America's Greatest Clown Teams From Philadelphia Will Show Here

New Castle basketball fans will have the opportunity Monday evening at the Arena floor to see one of the greatest clown teams in the country, the Harlem Hoboes of Philadelphia, in action with the K. Pulaski "Big Five". The game starts at 8:15 o'clock, the doors will open at 7:45 o'clock.

Manager Al Gonet of the Pulaskis announced that he will have his strongest lineup available. The Harlem Hoboes do not clown all the time, as shown by the fact that they met and defeated some of the best teams in the United States, Canada and Mexico. Among their victims are the following teams: Chicago Crusaders, Toledo Hoop Kings, Frisco Pioneers, Laredo Mexican All-Stars, Winnipeg Royals, Detroit Collegians and Cleveland Clippers.

Galaxy Of Stars

On the Philadelphia team are Woe Woods, formerly with the New York Bombers; Red Duncan, formerly with the New York Rens; Ernie Mize, West Virginia State college star; Jim Aiken, formerly of the Richmond Skaters; Charley Lucas, formerly with the Globetrotters; Phobie Bates, former Long Island U star and Philadelphia star, and Mel Dawson, Atlanta university and former Chicago Crusader star.

The Hoboes feature the hidden ball trick, shadow shooting, rolling the ball and trick overhead shots. They have won seven sectional titles as follows: Mid-West, California Invitational, Southern, Eastern Pro, Montreal Invitational, the Texas Open and others.

Babe Ruth Will Rest In Florida
Babe And Wife Will Spend Vacation At Miami Beach At Home Of Friend

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—Babe Ruth, baseball's immortal home run king, announced plans today to fly to Florida next Tuesday for a vacation of 10 days or two weeks.

The Bambino has been recuperating at his New York home from a serious neck operation. The Babe entered French hospital on November 26 and went home to his Riverside Drive apartment on February 15.

He will take off from Newark Airport accompanied by his wife, Claire, and Ray Kiltzau, a close friend, and will spend his vacation at Kiltzau's home in Miami Beach.

Since the operation, in which an artery in his neck was tied off to stop severe headaches, the former New York Yankee slugger has made steady progress. Aided by an increasingly-good appetite, he has put on four or five pounds in the past 10 days.

Pirates Thumped By Washington

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 5.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates came back to their home base in Miami Beach today to meet the Philadelphia Athletics, a bit shopworn after a four-day trip around the grapefruit circuit.

The Bucs received about their roughest treatment of the training campaign yesterday when Mickey Haefner held them to three hits and the Washington Senators handed them a 6-2 setback at Orlando. Jim Bagby went seven innings for the Pirates and gave up 12 hits, with Buddy Lewis getting four of them for a perfect day at bat.

Duquesne Stars Will Play Here

Manager Al Gonet of the K. Pulaski "Big Five" has been fortunate in securing the Duquesne All-Stars for a game at the Arena next Wednesday with the "Big Five" at 8:15 o'clock. The Duquesne All-Stars are composed of the 1946-47 Duquesne University team—Camic, Barry, Penezelik, and Lacy, with Stan Noska, Moe Becker and Andy Kasparik from the Pittsburgh pro Ironmen team.

Former Penn State Star Cites Dodgers In Havana, Won't Play In Minors

HAVANA, April 5.—(INS)—Baseball boasts a new rugged individualist today in Joe Tepsic, who is quitting the game because if he can't be a regular in the majors, he won't play ball at all.

The baseball and football star from Penn State planned to board a plane and head for his home in Slovan, Pa., a small town near Pittsburgh. He is leaving the Brooklyn club because the Dodgers want to farm him out to Mobile in the Southern Association for further seasoning.

Tepsic claims that the Brooklyn brain trust never has given him a real chance to prove his worth on the diamond.

March Was One Of Coldest In Years

Daily Average Was Over Eighteen Degrees Per Day Colder Than Last Year's Warm Month

March weather, always noted for its fickleness, was quite in contrast with the weather experienced during March in 1946, the records of Baxter P. Johnson, U. S. Weather Observer here reveal.

In 1946, March weather was ahead of schedule, and the daily temperature was 13.1 degree over the normal. This year, March was one of the coldest on record, the daily average temperature being 5.2 degrees per day below the normal, making a spread of 18.3 degrees difference per day.

The mean maximum was 40.3 degrees, the mean minimum was 23.2 degrees, and the mean or average per day was 31.7 degrees. The highest temperature was 57 degrees on the 23rd, and the lowest was 13 degrees on the 28th. Last year, the highest temperature during the month was 78 degrees and the lowest was 21 degrees. However, the daily temperature last year was continuously high, while this year it remained constantly low.

Total precipitation for the month was 1.15 inches, the greatest in 24 hours being .34 inches on the 24th. There was 2.9 inches of snow during the month, the greatest amount being six-tenths of an inch on March 21. Last year, only four-tenths of an inch of snow fell in the month, all on one day. The precipitation was 1.89 inches below normal, whereas in March 1946, it was 1.14 inches below normal.

Days clear were three, partly cloudy were 11, and cloudy, 17.

First Phase Of Mine Disaster Probe Near End
CENTRALIA, Ill., April 5.—(INS)—The first phase of a U. S. Senate committee probe into the Centralia Coal Co. No. 5 mine disaster was expected to be completed today.
One hundred eleven miners died in the 540-foot deep mine March 25. Only 31 of the 142 men in the mine at the time survived.
The committee, in session last night, heard:
Illinois State Mine Inspector Driscoll Scanlan express the opinion that the disaster was caused by a dust explosion set off by an overcharged shot, and Hugh White, president of the Illinois United Mine Workers, accuse Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug of "criminal negligence."
White also asserted that the Centralia mine's operators "are guilty in not carrying out the recommendations of federal and state mine inspectors" for correcting "hazardous" conditions in the pit.

Two Lake Steamers Marooned By Ice
CONNEAUT, O., April 5.—(INS)—The Steamers Alpena and Huron still were surrounded in ice floes some eight miles northwest of Conneaut today.
In another try by two harbor tugs, crews were unable early today to locate the stranded vessels because of foggy conditions.
South winds pushed the ice-loaded ships further lakeward last night. Heavy rainfall melting ice led harbor officials to believe the coal carriers likely would make port over the weekend.
According to a message received in Conneaut from the Alpena captain, a sick seaman aboard the ship has recovered.

STOCK MARKET IS DULL TODAY
NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—Stocks dragged through one of the duller two-hour sessions in recent years today, with Wall Street all but deserted as many customers extended yesterday's holiday.
Prices drifted aimlessly, with most issues at or near previous closing levels.
Near the close shares like U. S. Steel, Chrysler, American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, Consolidated Edison, American Air Lines and Great Northern Railway were virtually unchanged. General Motors was down about 1-2 point along with Goodyear, DuPont, Montgomery Ward and Pepsi-Cola.
Small gains were recorded by Standard Oil of N. J., Paramount, American Can, Pennsylvania R. R. and Westinghouse Electric.
Bonds and curb shares were extremely quiet and little changed. Cotton markets were closed.

World Flight Plane Fails To Start On Trip
NEWARK, N.J., April 5.—(INS)—Heavy rain and a low ceiling delayed today the start of Milton Reynolds' round-the-world flight in the "Reynolds Bombshell."
The plane originally had been scheduled to take off from LaGuardia Field, N. Y., at 12:01 a.m. (EST) today, but city officials ruled it could not get away from airport because the heavy gas load constituted a hazard to populated areas near the New York field.
Plans were then made to shift the starting point to Newark airport, situated in a less crowded locality.

UNIONTOWN BARBER SHOPS BALK UNION
UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 5.—(INS)—With one exception, all union barber shops in Uniontown today were being manned by the proprietors only.
Only one shop has acceded to union demands that 75 per cent of individual receipts be returned to the barber, and higher prices for shaves and children's haircuts.

J. H. McCalmont, aged 70 years, of R. D. 4, Harlansburg, is believed to have been the victim of a hit-skip driver, on Friday evening. He is in the Jameson Memorial hospital with a deep laceration of the scalp, possible fracture of the skull, and possible fracture of the right hip.
According to the report made to state police, boys of the community found him lying to the side of the road below the McClelland funeral home, at 8:30 o'clock.
He had been at the hospital previous to the accident to visit his sister, Miss Bessie McCalmont, who is undergoing treatment there.

Flood Threat At Wellsboro
WELLSBORO, Pa., April 5.—(INS)—A damaging flood today threatened Wellsboro and nearby Middlebury. Center after heavy rains throughout the night and morning inundated highways and sent streams out of their banks.
The rain was continuing after noon today and Pine creek was rising rapidly.
The Wellsboro office of the American Red Cross said that as yet there have been no evacuations of homes or farms, but added that unless the rain ceases soon it appears there will be damage.

Tornado Kills Three In West
Storm Strikes In Oklahoma—Several Homes Are Levelled
(BULLETIN)
POTEAU, Okla., April 5.—(INS)—Sheriff Ralph Kelley of Le Flore county said today three persons were killed and another was critically injured in a tornado which levelled several homes in the Glendale community, south of Poteau, early today.
The sheriff said he was informed the dead included Mrs. George Vaughn, wife of an elderly farmer; her son, Andrew, and a daughter whose name was not learned. George Vaughn, about 70, was reported in a critical condition.
The tornado struck about 2 a. m. and although several other homes were reported demolished, no one else was seriously hurt, the sheriff said. The Red Cross dispatched a disaster relief crew to the scene.

FIRE ON SHIP
NORFOLK, Va., April 5.—(INS)—Fire broke out anew today aboard the Liberty ship Charles Norfoll and three explosions shook the vessel as naval and coast guard personnel battled the flames.
The 7,176-ton freighter, whose cargo caught fire at sea yesterday, was towed to anchor at Hampton Roads, Va., and the blaze was believed to have been extinguished.

World Youth Fund Drive
Aimed To Rebuild Y.M.C.A.
Movement In Many Nations

April 14 is the date set for launching the World Youth Fund campaign—the greatest peace-time financial effort undertaken in the 103-year history of the Y. M. C. A. On that date the Y. M. C. A. of the United States and Canada, 1400 strong, will fire the opening gun in their drive to raise $8,650,000 to help meet the desperate needs of young people in war-torn nations throughout the world.

During the war 105 "Y" buildings were destroyed or damaged beyond repair. Some 600 Y. M. C. A. secretaries suffered incredibly from overwork, malnutrition, privation or imprisonment. The aims of the World Youth Fund are to rebuild these 105 buildings, to give aid to the 600 Y. M. C. A. secretaries and their families and to bring Christian democratic influence to bear quickly on young people of war-torn nations.

Pennsylvania has the honor of being the first state whose Y. M. C. A. has accepted quotas totaling over $853,036.

Rockefeller Gift

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has made a gift of $250,000 to the World Youth Fund. Says Mr. Rockefeller: "I am glad to contribute to the World Youth Fund at this time when the problems of world reconstruction press on every hand. The Y. M. C. A.'s World Youth Fund is a forward looking program and one which I heartily advocate."

Massillon Hi-Y clubs have sent in half of a $1,000 quota which these clubs have accepted as their portion of the World Youth pledge. World Youth Fund contributors can rest assured that every allocation from the fund goes to meet a real need that has been carefully studied both in this continent and abroad. The funds raised supplement instead of making unnecessary the efforts of the associations receiving it, and it is not a dead-end disbursement but contributes to a vital, on-going work among youth. Allocations of funds are granted only for specific projects developed by the national general secretary of the country concerned and endorsed by the senior secretary of the international committee in that country.

Standard Uniform
For Army Personnel
Delayed Until 1949

Extend Date One Year To Make Officers, Enlisted Men's Garb Alike

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—The enlisted men in the army knew today that their officers would continue to wear different uniforms until June 30, 1949, instead of June 30, 1948.

A widely publicized War Department circular issued about a year ago decreed that after June 30, 1948, officers and men would wear the same olive drab winter uniform, with matching short jackets and trousers.

Another circular, however, was issued recently rescinding many of the provisions of the original decree and allowing officers to continue resplendent in "pink" pants and "green" blouses and shirts for another year.

Fail To Kill Rumors

In addition, constant denials from official sources failed to kill entirely rumors that the air force, if granted autonomy under the merger act, would blossom out in uniforms of Royal Air Force blue.

One uniform definitely is not going to appear, and that is the dress blue the army displayed prominently several months ago. Economy was given as the chief reason for abandonment of the blue, but many G.I.s made no bones about the fact they wanted to look like soldiers, not park guards.

Army spokesmen insist the continuance of the different uniforms for officers is forced by fiscal reasons. They say that to force a change next year would cost too much money.

Economy also was given as one of the reasons for the original order putting officers and enlisted men in the same uniform.

Around Hollywood
By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 5.—William Perlberg, a movie producer who has been manufacturing top movies for nigh onto 15 years, has a complaint.

Producer Perlberg voiced his plaintive plea today on behalf of all his brethren in the picture industry. The Perlberg-of-wisdom we wish to pass along is this:

"I wish," he lamented, "that women would make up their minds on what kind of figures they want. And then I wish the women would keep them."

Their figures, he means.

Perlberg explained:

"Girls change from one generation to another. I don't mean they only alter their styles in clothes and hairdos—but they actually change physically."

Makes Work Confusing

Perlberg's specialty is the historical movie, and this physical metamorphosis of the female makes his work more confusing than amusing.

"First," he griped, "the dames want to be plump. Then they want to be skinny."

"In the days of illian Russell, girls were big-bosomed and uh-well, they sat more comfortably on a sofa than they did in a narrow armchair."

"Now, today, 40 years later, our women look like telephone poles."

The 52-year-old producer said that he and Director Otto Preminger had a heck of a time trying to

'Exclusive' Clubs
Are Opening Doors
To New Members

NEW YORK—(INS)—Whether you have a lot of money or not, you should be able to join a private club.

In fact, says Eugene F. Sweeney, chairman of the Club Managers Association of America, the so-called exclusive clubs jumped their members an average of 20 per cent last year, drawing largely from people in the middle income brackets.

This proves that character not cabbage is what counts.

Sweeney, whose Club Managers Association collects data from 6,000 town, country, beach and yacht clubs throughout the nation, reported that character has become more important than financial status in admitting new members.

"What clubs want most are steady, reliable members," Sweeney said. "People with an average income have just as good character as the wealthy class."
